

YOUNG MOTHER TAKES POISON TO END LIFE

VELDA TOOLE BROWN, 28,
DRINKS LYSOL AT HOME
EARLY MONDAY

CHILDREN GOODBYE

As To Revive Young Woman
Prove Futile—Leaves Four Children.

Velda Toole Brown, age 28, wife of John Brown, and mother of four small children, ended her life early Monday by drinking a deadly antiseptic, containing a large amount of carbolic acid, at her home in Commercial Place. The body of the young woman was found by neighbors who called to revive her. Although no note was left to explain the act, domestic trouble was blamed by neighbors and relatives for the suicide.

Mrs. Brown left her husband and four children sitting around a stove in the room of her two-room house, and went into the kitchen where she took the bottle of lysol. Returning to the other room she kissed each of her children, smearing their faces with the deadly solution, and then sat on a stool telling her husband what she had done. Almost instantly she collapsed and became unconscious.

Dr. A. E. Ayler was called and later Dr. W. M. McGaughey was summoned. The latter took a stomach pump with him. Efforts to revive the woman were unavailing, however, death coming at 8:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Brown drank the deadly solution about 7:30 o'clock and never regained consciousness after falling from the stool.

Dr. Ayler who first arrived administered strychnine in an effort to revive the woman. The stomach pump was used.

McGaughey stated that Mrs. Brown spent nine weeks two years ago in a hospital suffering from inflammatory rheumatism and heart trouble. She has been in feeble health since that time, the physician said.

The faces of the small children were badly reddened where the mother had kissed them with her lysol covered lips, the physicians said.

Coroner Frank Reed of Cloverdale was called to investigate the suicide. The children are Eugene, 9; Charles, 7; Edna, 6; and Ernest, 3. She is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Violet Deane of Greencastle, Mrs. Cullis Wilson of Racoon; Mrs. Russell Stewart of North Salem; and Mrs. Cloe Stewart of New Maysville; one brother, Marion Toole of Chicago; and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Toole, of Carpentersville.

Members of the Tri Kappa sorority were summoned after the death of Mrs. Brown, and they made arrangements for the comfort of the children until further plans can be made.

Firemen Prevent A Serious Fire

QUICK WORK HALTS SERIOUS
CONFLAGRATION AT JOHN-SON APARTMENT

Quick work by city firemen about 9:30 Sunday morning prevented a serious fire at the Johnson apartments, 407 east Walnut street. Firemen used chemicals and a booster tank on the fire truck to quench the flames caused by an over-heated furnace pipe in the basement. Damage amount to about $100, it was estimated by fire chief Ben Howard.

When firemen reached the scene of the fire it was roaring up a partition eating its way to the first floor. A few minutes later and the entire first floor and interior of the basement might have been in flames.

The chemical tanks and booster tank on the fire truck provided sufficient water to put out the fire without the necessity of laying a hose line.

WM. RANDEL, GARAGEMAN, IS BLINDED

GREENCASTLE MAN'S EYESIGHT
EFFECTED BY PRESENT ILLNESS

MAY BE PERMANENT

Leakage Of Heart And Diabetes Contribute To Breakdown
Sunday.

William Randel, 212 west Franklin street, well known Greencastle man, is seriously ill at his home, following a breakdown at his garage on north Indiana street, Sunday. Leakage of the heart and diabetes contributed to the breakdown, it was said.

Mr. Randel's breakdown has resulted in blindness although this condition may be only temporary.

His condition first became apparent Sunday when he complained of the garage being filled with smoke. He was taken to the office of the garage where he complained of the same condition. It then became apparent he could not see. He was removed to his home. A physician who was called announced he had suffered a breakdown. Whether the blindness would be permanent the physician could not say. Rest may help his condition.

Relatives at the home said Monday that his condition was still serious.

GIRL RESERVES ORGAN- IZED IN HIGH SCHOOL

Last October, a group of 30 girls of the second, third and fourth grades of high school organized a Girl Reserve club. This organization is the girls' department of the International Young Women's Christian Association. In cities having no local Y. W. C. A., these clubs are called Registered Girl Reserve departments of the National Y. W. C. A. at New York City. The group here has had little publicity until it was certain it would be permanent.

There are two divisions of the Girl Reserves work, one for the junior high and one for senior high girls. Here we have only the senior high work, as the younger girls are largely members of the Girl Scout organization. The difference in the two departments is that the work for the younger girls is planned for them, and the older girls plan their own work.

Twice a month general meetings are held, business is transacted, followed by a program or social hour. The alternate weeks are in the form of interest groups. Girls are encouraged to adopt hobbies, or learn more about vocations that will be of value to them in the future. At present we have two interest groups, one in dramatics, and one in handicraft.

The officers of the club are: Prs., Miriam Peck; vice pres., Julia Murnane; sec., Elizabeth Knauer; treas., Margaret Matkin; committee chairmen: social, Carolyn Ellis; program Miriam Bantz; social service, Elizabeth Erdman; and publicity, Madonna Grimes.

An advisory council sponsors the club. Members of the council are: Mrs. H. H. Ellis, Mrs. B. B. McMahon, Mrs. Kenneth Peck, Mrs. Curry Inman, Mrs. S. R. Rariden, Miss Jacob Tillotson, Miss Velda DeMoss, Miss Pearl Gibson, Mrs. Jacob Bantz is the chief advisor and works directly with the girls, having had several years experience in city Y. W. C. A. work. A number of college girls who had formerly been Girl Reserves, had charge of the first Recognition service. At this time Mrs. W. H. Gibson, a member of the National Board, was here to meet the girls and council members. The girls served dinner to the entire group, council, and college Girl Reserves.

Among other activities the girls distributed Red Cross advertisements, sold Christmas seals for the Tuberculosis Association, gave a Christmas pageant, provided a basket for a family at Thanksgiving. They will give a style show at the High School Senior Carnival, the proceeds of which will go to the seniors. The girls are planning a Valentine party.

The girls are fortunate in having Miss Ruth Kattman of the Public speaking dept., of the University as coach of dramatics.

School authorities have co-operated splendidly with all the efforts of the club, and many parents have expressed their approval and interest. It is not an invitation organization, any girl being welcome to join who belongs to the second, third, or fourth years of high school. Meetings are held each Monday night at seven o'clock in the Methodist church.

Lloyd Skinner of Chicago is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Skinner, south Locust street.

WILL ANYONE HELP?

Living in Greencastle is a mother and three children, all of whom are being kept in school by the heroic efforts of the mother and a few who know her condition.

The children, who are in the grade school ited shoes. Is there any one in Greencastle will donate shoes for a small boy and girl of this age? Is there anyone who will furnish the cash to buy them?

People who have visited the home report it as clean as a pin and the family happy, in spite of their handicaps. Until a few weeks ago, these children even lacked underwear and other clothes. These have been supplied. The boy's shoes are worn out and he said he could get along if he was only given rubbers or something he could wear to keep his feet off the ground.

We believe there are many people who will supply these needs if they know of it. For further information, call the Banner Office.

PLANS MADE TO DYNAMITE RIVER LEVEE

BLAST WILL ALLEVIATE SITUATION IN DECKER CHAPEL VICINITY

MOTOR BOATS AID REFUGEES

Flood Water Remains Stationary Near Vincennes, Break In Levee Believed Necessary.

VINCENNES, Ind., Jan. 20 (UP)—Dynamiting a levee along the Wabash river, nine miles southwest of Vincennes, was considered as the quickest means of relieving the Decker Chapel district of the vast amount of flood water covering thousands of acres of farmlands in the township today.

The river was dropping slowly, but the water back of the levees, held by a heavy sheet of ice and frozen dikes, was practically stationary. At Vincennes the river stood at 23 feet early this morning, having slowly receded eight tenths of a foot in 24 hours.

Levee guards and landowners were gathering early this morning, prepared to blow out the section of levee that was believed to be holding back the waters in the flooded district.

Two motor launches returned last night from a tour of the Decker Chapel district where occupants distributed food, fuel, clothing and medicine to the flood refugees.

The boat manned by R. H. Anglin, general manager of the Indiana Refining company, Lawrenceville, Ill., and four members of the American Legion, spent 11 hours in the district fighting through heavy blocks of ice.

Anglin's crew visited 11 homes. At one home it was reported 37 refugees were housed and a dozen persons were gathered in the second floor of the Decker Chapel schoolhouse, with only a coal oil heater for warmth. Water was in the lower floor of the building.

The boat crew reported there was no intense suffering among the homes they visited.

The condition of the two children, marooned in their home critically ill and in need of professional attention had improved although it was yet impossible to reach the home because of the high water and ice. Instructions had been sent to the home by telephone. The children were believed to be suffering from tonsillitis.

Fifty of the 115 homes in Decker township were believed uninhabited. Most of the 50 houses are on high land, out of water although virtually isolated with flood waters all around.

A report from Princeton said four motorboats laden with supplies and medicine set out from there today in an attempt to reach 25 families marooned in their homes in Gibson county.

Ten Days Left To Secure Licenses

ONLY 926 PASSENGER CAR PLATES ISSUED TODATE MISS HILLIS ASSERTS

With a total of only 929 passenger car plates for 1930 sold to date, indications Monday were that those in charge of the local distributing agency would be working at full speed between now and January 31, the last day to use 1929 plates, in order to supply Putnam County motorists with their new plates before the time limit expires.

It is estimated that at least 2,000 more passenger plates will be necessary to supply all Putnam County motorists driving their cars this winter. A total of 4,200 passenger car plates were sent here for distribution.

Sale of truck plates likewise has been very slow. Only 133 out of the 600 sent here have been sold.

Mrs. Essie Benefield, in charge of the license sale here, says she has been notified by the state license department that state police have been given orders to arrest all motorists operating on 1929 plates after midnight January 31. Heretofore the time limit has been extended.

Miss Benefield is being assisted in the license distribution by Miss Edna Hillis.

BOARD PROBES AIR DISASTER IN CALIFORNIA

SIXTEEN LOSE LIVES WHEN BIG CABIN PLANE CRASHES AND BURNS

VICTIMS DIED QUICKLY

Gasoline From Wing Tanks Spray Motors Causing Explosions At Plane Nose Dives

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif., Jan. 20 (UP)—A sudden squall which caught the heavy plane before it could be headed back to a landing field, was responsible for the air catastrophe here in which 16 persons perished, the San Diego board decided today.

The findings of the board, a civic organization, were given out by John B. Lyman, director in the T. A. T. Maddux air lines which owned the ill-fated plane.

The big ship with its capacity load of 14 passengers and two pilots was forced to a low altitude before Pilot Basil Russell could swing it around in a turn, the board decided.

Russell had seen the approaching storm too late to get started back to a San Diego landing field. In an attempted turn, the pressure of the storm swept the left wing of the plane against the ground.

The 14 passengers and two pilots had no chance to escape. An explosion of the wing gasoline tanks threw some of them from the cabin. The pilots were pinned beneath the great motors.

The air line announced that 16 persons were aboard the plane and the death list was estimated at eight men and eight women on that basis. Fifteen of the bodies had been located early today, according to Chief of Police Forest J. Eaton, of San Clemente.

The tragedy brought southern California's death toll to 26 for two crashes. On January 3, two movie camera planes collided near Point Vicente and all ten occupants perished in the sea.

The crash yesterday was the most disastrous in the history of commercial aviation in the United States, in point of loss of life. As in the Point Vicente crash, it occurred close to the Pacific Ocean. The plane struck on a narrow strip of land separating the coast highway from the water.

Motorists said they heard the plane's engines and saw the ship lose altitude and touch the ground. The pilot strove desperately to regain altitude and lifted the plane into the air 250 feet but it was a losing battle. The wing had been damaged in the first contact and the tail was shattered. The plane nosed downward, and as it met the ground again, the gasoline tanks exploded and the big craft became a roaring oven.

Chief Eaton found nine bodies within a space of not seven feet square where they had been thrown by the explosion. Nearby were four other bodies. The pilot was held partly under the main motor of his ship. The co-pilot was completely under the engine.

The first efforts to recover the bodies of the two pilots failed because of the weight of the motors.

Coroner Schuyler Z. Kelley of San Diego county, took charge at the scene of the crash and ordered a truck called to move the heavy engines.

The bodies of the victims were removed to San Diego.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, vice-president of T. A. T. telephoned from San Diego for details of the accident and indicated that he would take a part in the investigation.

Jefferson high school of Lafayette a team that has twice fallen before Greencastle, this season, defeated the Tiger Cubs, 23 to 20 in an overtime battle Saturday night to win the first College Town basketball tourney.

The Lafayette squad held a 12 to 9 lead at the half, aided by three tip-in shots by Holtman, lanky center. In the second half, Tobin tied up the count at 18 all. With Crowe holding the ball, Jeff stalled the regulation playing time being 18-18.

In the extra period, Jeff collected five points in rapid order while Evan Crawley's field goal accounted for the only scoring by the locals and the tilt ended, 23 to 20 with Bausman's Purple and Gray warriors on the short end of the count.

This makes the third defeat in fourteen starts for Greencastle, having lost to Bedford by 1-point in a double overtime scrap Friday night, and by 3 points to Delphi a month ago.

Evan Crawley, Gene Crawley and Tobin were outstanding for the Cubs in the final game of the tourney while Holtman, center, and Crowe, floor guard, were the main factors in Jeff's victory.

NET TABS

With a record of 10 victories out of 11 starts, the Cubs lost to Bedford in a double overtime game Friday evening. Then, by winning from Bloomington Saturday afternoon, the standing of the locals was 11 wins out of 13 games played. But along came Jeff on Saturday evening, handing Bausman's basketballers a 23 to 20 setback in an overtime fray.

Three defeats in fourteen games is nothing to feel downhearted about.

We'll bet Bedford and Jeff will now appear on about every Big Ten list in the state this week as result of the upsets sustained by Greencastle the past week-end.

Next winter, the College Town Tourney, will be held at Crawfordsville. The same officials, Vandiver and Stromer, who worked so well together here, will also do the officiating at the Athenian stronghold, it was stat'd Saturday night.

Rushville, the team that meets the Tiger Cubs on the local floor on Thursday night, surprised themselves and everybody else by clobbering Shelbyville and winning the sixth district tournament Saturday.

Look out for those Lions, Greencastle! They crave Tiger Cub meat.

Believing that his proteges may be slightly overtrained, Bausman announced this morning that the Greencastle squad will not work out until Wednesday afternoon. The Cub mentor is taking no chances on his players becoming stale.

NET TABS:

Just a fan that happened to go to the Greencastle-Bedford game in the city of Bedford Friday night, and I feel that Greencastle has certainly been given a very raw deal in several ways, as to the right and wrong of the referee and umpire's decisions. Possibly they were right, but there is one thing I, nor any other Greencastle fan can understand, that is—why should Greencastle fans have to pay an extra fee in order to stay in a group. This statement is true in nearly every case where the fan gave the slightest hint that they were from Greencastle for as in the case of the writer and eight associates when we entered the gymnasium and asked where our fans were to locate we were refused tickets at that window and told to go around the gym to another door and get our tickets as the seats held for Greencastle were accessible from the other door only. This was untrue as a few more fortunate ones that denied they were from Greencastle obtained tickets without paying the extra fee and were very much in the Greencastle section, and to save me I can not see that they performed any great deed, they merely walked directly to their seats.

Now I want somebody to give me some information, is it customary for the host in sports to penalize the guests? If it is, then its time to hunt another form of amusements, the extra cost was small, yes, indeed very small but the littleness of any school to add a penalty because you are from the visiting town is also very very small.

Possibly I, rather WE are wrong. Possibly that would be imposing on the HOST.

Now what solution is offered, lets hear from somebody that knows sportsmanship between Schools.

Sincerely—A FAN.

GILBERT OGLES,

An Outstanding Value Event in Men's Shirts!

We strongly advise you to come prepared to buy at least a half-dozen of these shirts! We can't say when we'll be able to offer such a decided value in shirts again. Each shirt has had the careful workmanship that the J. C. Penney Co. demands. Large armholes, box-pleated fronts, extra fullness to allow for natural shrinkage, seven button fronts and durable buttons are other important features.

The New York Stage. Shooting the Speaker. The Judge's Address.

New York City's play producers find a tough competitor in the talking picture and they say the legitimate stage has been injured by the wicked ticket brokers who have bought the best seats weeks in advance and sold them for exorbitant prices.

Such a complaint is a great joke, inasmuch as the producers have been hand in hand with the brokers and have shared in the plunder.

The speaking stage has been injured by the producers themselves by charging twice as much as they should, four dollars for a two dollar seat, and they have further put their business upon the hobgoblin by giving it over to the production of plays which were so ineffectual the audience had to put on gas masks. The way to restore the speaking stage to public favor is to charge honest prices and take the plays out of the bed room and plant them in the sitting room.

It is a hopeful sign that the Mexican government is encouraging its people to plant olives, for while it is not so important that the Mexicans eat olives, it is imperative that they should learn to wave olive branches.

President Hoover probably does not care much about having Boulder Dam named for him, for his letter to Dr. Johnson of Ohio State university would seem to indicate great many others in his honor.

The danger of carrying the merger spirit to an extreme is shown in the case of Mrs. Evelyn Barnes of Carthage, Missouri who is now in jail because she is married to five husbands.

An admiral of Chinese navy was shot the other night while he was addressing a banquet.

We don't believe that a banquet speaker should be shot unless he talks more than an hour, but if he goes beyond that the bombardment should become quite general.

Which reminds up of a Chicago banquet where a judge was last on the program.

Those who preceded him talked for hours and it was one a. m. by the time the judge was reached.

The toast master arose and said: "Judge Jamison will now give his address where upon the Judge arose and said: "My address is 1900 Dorchester avenue—Good night!"

Count Michael Karolyi, the former premier of Hungary, who is now visiting us in unduly excited when he says the Fascist movement is a world peril.

Not long ago the president of Argentina made Mussolini back up and the other day Tom Heflin criticized the Fascist organization in New York and it disbanded immediately.

Nobody in this country objects to the parole of Dr. Cook, now confined in Leavenworth penitentiary, but the Norwegians probably will object for they hung roses upon him when he returned after claiming to have discovered the north pole.

I. U. PLAYERS AT CHAPEL
The Indiana University Players introduced the Bean family of Chic

Jackson fame to the DePauw University campus today. Goldie, Woody, Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Probe, Uncle Wash and even Joey the Probe rooster, were present. Chic Jackson, originator of the cartoon strip, was supposed to have been present in person to introduce the skit with some pen drawings. He failed to reach the campus in time for the introduction.

The short play was presented as a chapel program at the Little Theater and many were turned away due to insufficient seating capacity. The Indiana University players are coached by Prof. Norvell and the same company played the skit at the Indiana State Fair in Indianapolis last September.

The program was in the form of an exchange, the DePauw University department of speech will present a play at Indiana University February 26. No play has been selected but the department is considering Edna Ferber's play "The Eldest."

The skit centering about the Bean family was entitled "The Return of

THE easy graceful swing of the skater has years of training behind it. Equally, the smooth sparkling zest of Chesterfield is no chance affair. Tobaccos are chosen for mildness, for fragrance, for wholesome flavor—then patiently aged and mellowed, exactly blended and cross-blended. And unvarying good taste is the constant result—quite naturally, when every step of every process has good taste as its goal:
